Please read the below note we received from a very grateful single mom in our program.

I was 34 years old when I became a single mom. It was never what I pictured for my life and there were many moments when I felt overwhelmed, scared, and unsure of what the future was going to look like for me and my kids.

I heard about Sheridan House through a friend who knew that I needed support and I am so grateful for her because, looking back, I truly believe God placed her in my life at the right time.

Sheridan House has helped me in more ways than I can put into words. One of the biggest things I've learned is how to look at my finances differently. The program has taught me how to be more responsible with my money, make better decisions, and think about the future instead of just trying to get through the next day.

Sheridan House has given me more than financial guidance. It has given my family a safe place to live while I work toward building a better and more stable future along with people who guide me, encourage me, and remind me that asking for help does not make me weak.

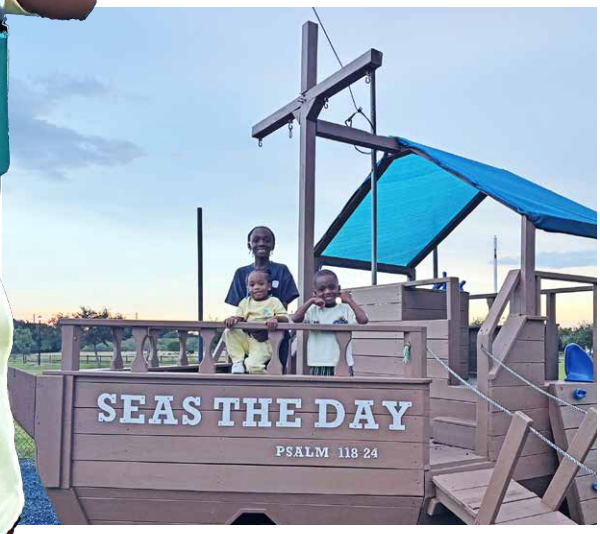

"There is no shame in speaking up or asking for help and you don't have to do it alone."

help and you don't have to do it alone. There are people who will listen, encourage you, give you advice, and help you find your way. Most importantly, don't give up on your faith. Your current situation is not the end of your story.

Sometimes God allows you to walk through a difficult season so that He can show you just how strong you really are. Keep going. Keep praying. Keep believing.

Through this journey, God has shown me His constant faithfulness. He taught me that faith doesn't mean there won't be hard days. It means believing that even on your hardest day, you are not alone.

To another single mom who may be wondering if Sheridan House could be helpful, I would say: There is no shame in speaking up or asking for help and you don't have to do it alone. There are people who will listen, encourage you, give you advice, and help you find your way.

Your children are watching you, and one day they will understand that every sacrifice you made was an act of love.
